Why to consider me?

- During my 14 years of experience, I have observed various teams/employees/faculty members/students and concluded that the 3 things which are very important in performing any job role are Commitment, Passion, and dedication (CPD). With right attitude and positive outlook, it is my firm belief that I can be fit for any job profile/job role, even if it requires me to learn/develop new skills.
- One exercise which I do daily is to evaluate my days' performance critically, if I believe that the day did not went well, I try to give my 200% the very next day, in order to compensate the previous day's low performance. This exercise had helped me to perform extra-ordinarily well at my current job profile.
- Also, I am proud to share that I am very disciplined employee who like to meet all timelines/deadlines of all assignments.
- Lastly, I always try to create a scenario where I imagine myself as my Employer and evaluate whether I am justifying the salary which I am getting.

Answering this question has always helped me to motivate myself to work even harder, "As an employer, will I hire a person like myself for this job role?" And till today my conscious has always answered as "Yes"
